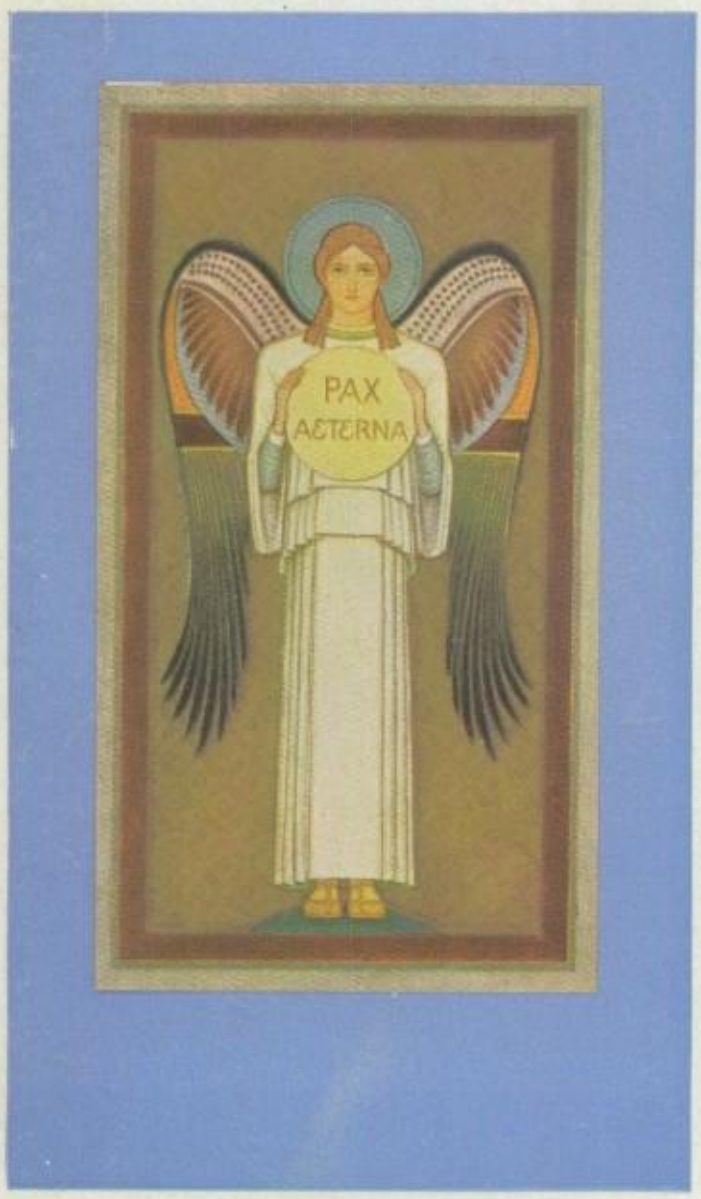
FOREWORD



From

the white of our cover, symbolic of the purity and joy of the angels; to the gold and blue for holiness and truth . . .

From

the loved persons and places, dear to the angels . . .

From

the Guardian Spirit who goes before Nazareth's nine hundred each day . . .

From

the tiny angel who lights the candles of truth and wisdom . . .

From

the conversation of angels whispered in silver tones through the realms of advertising space . . .

We

have gathered the theme for the 1939 "Lanthorn" . . . the Angels of God, our ever-loving, ever-faithful friends whom Faith has made us know.

To

the Angels of Peace to whom we owe "reverence for their presence, devotion for their benevolence, confidence for their care" . . .

To

our unseen protectors, the Cherubim and Seraphim . . .

To

the Guardian Angel who keeps a ceaseless, comforting vigil by the side of each Nazareth maid . . .

To

the Angel of the Rochester diocese whose inspiration guides our Bishop Kearney in his just and wise rule . . .

To

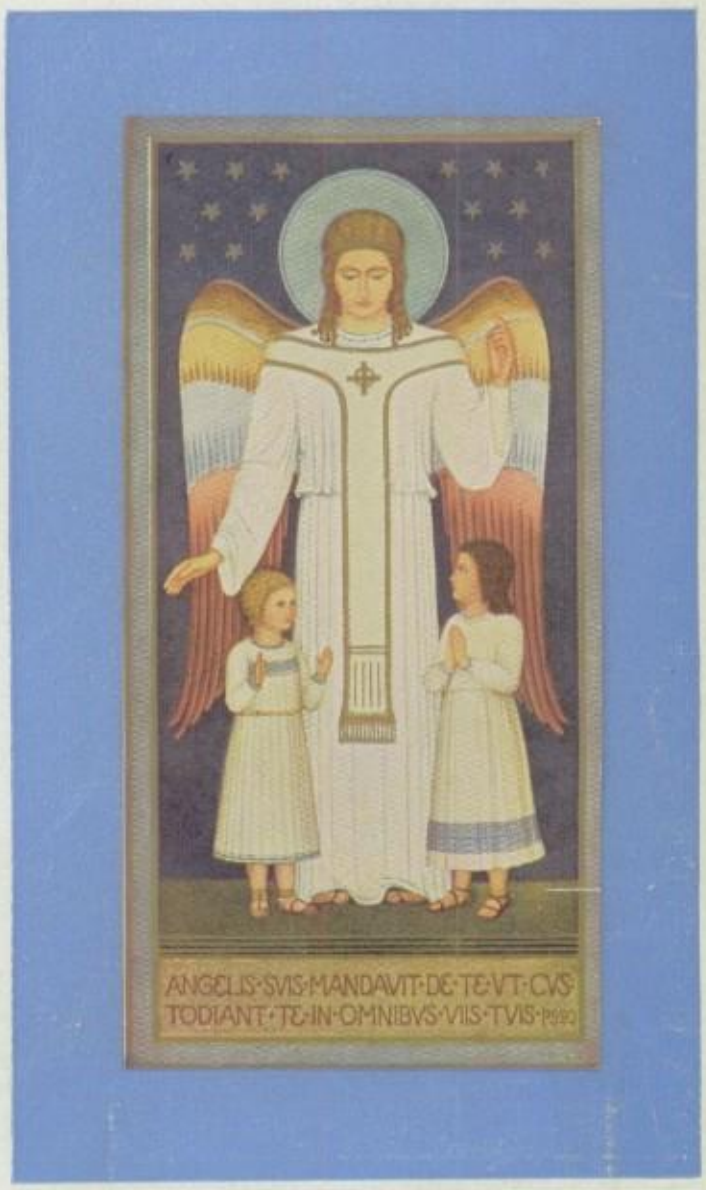
the Archangel who helps Pius XII in matters of grave moment . . .

To

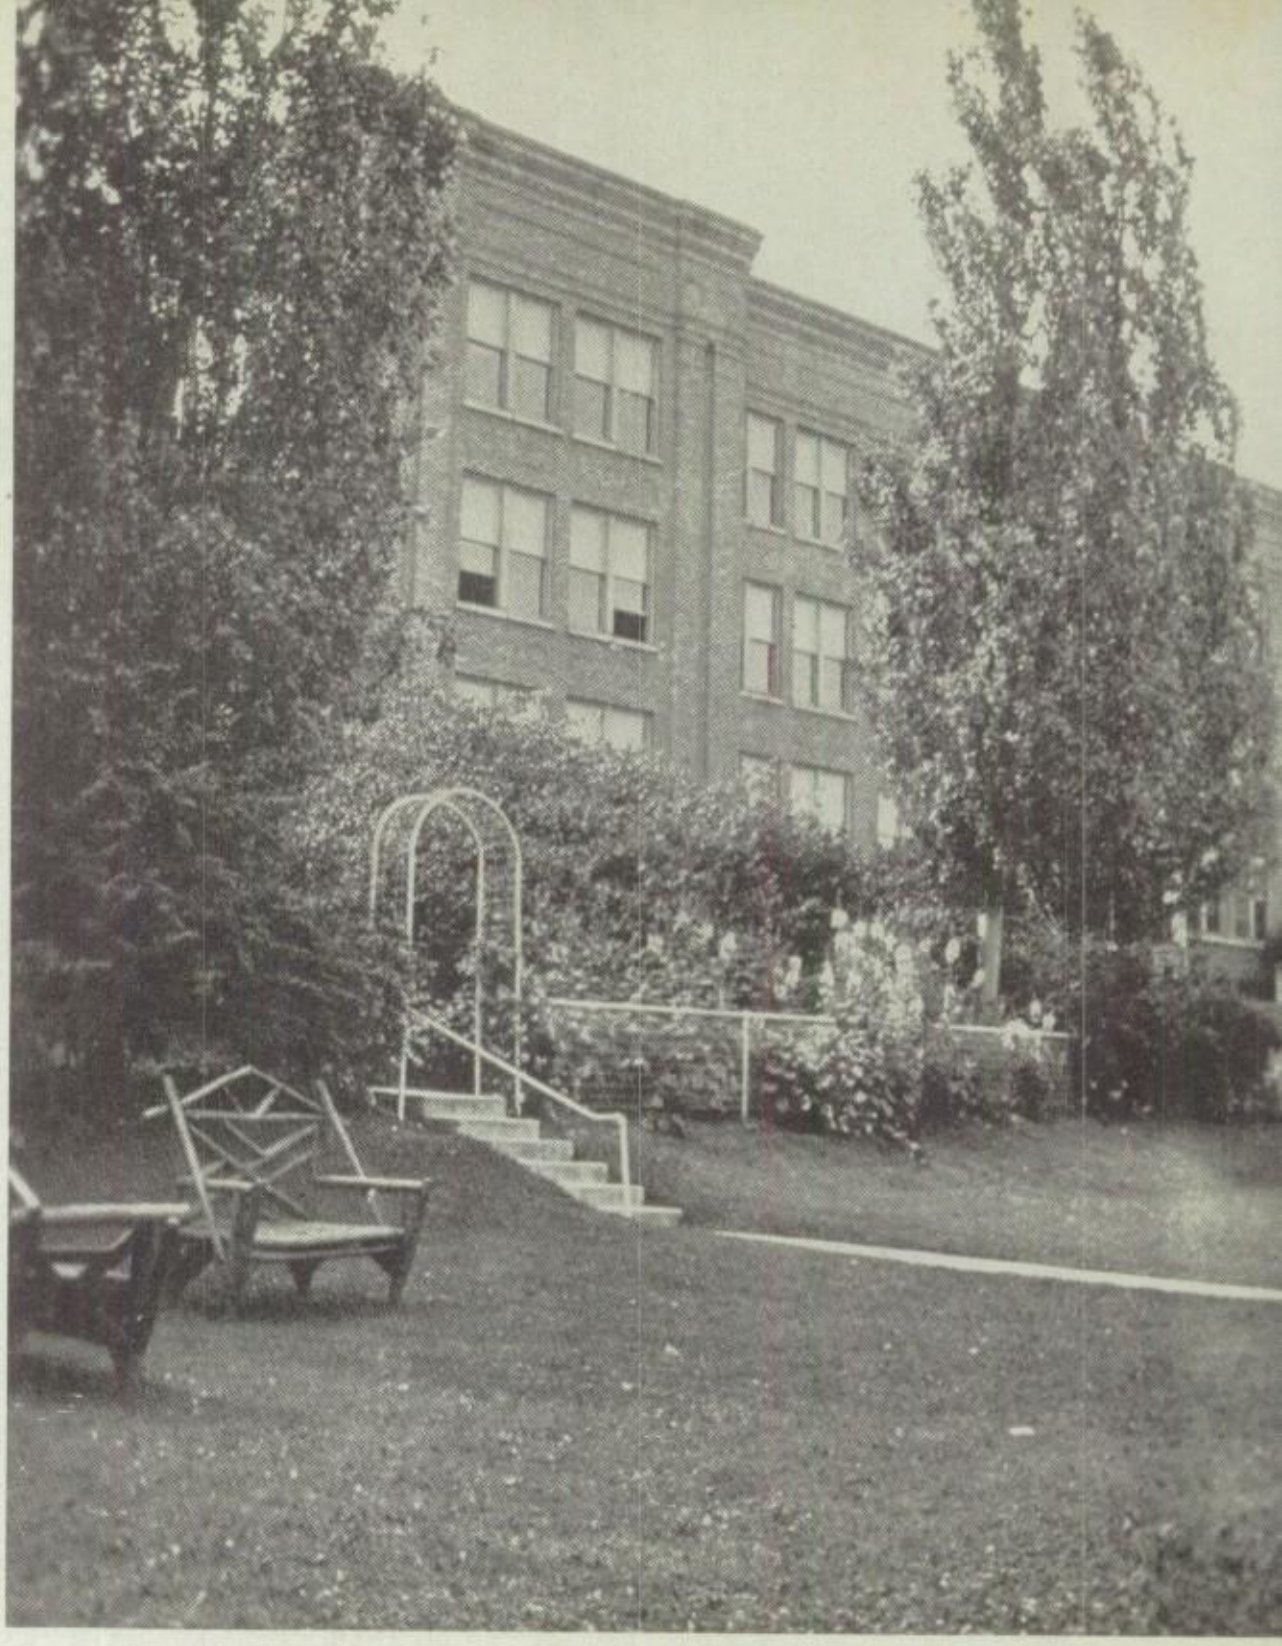
all the angels that ever do "service to succour us on earth"

We

the class of 1939 of Nazareth Academy, lovingly and gratefully dedicate the "Lanthorn."



DEDICATION



Nazareth that has known "the company of thousands of angels."

Realms that with radiant angels beamed;
places and persons beloved of the angels.

"Angels for Thine eternal praise, eternal watch are keeping."

If I with Fra Angelico
Could see the angels come and go,
As clothed in robes of gleaming gold
Their radiant gifts of Love unfold;
Could I but hear the praises there,
And know the joy that fills each prayer,
Then would I come with heart aflame
To whisper softly His sweet Name,
Then would I come and long adore
Till Love could fill my heart no more.

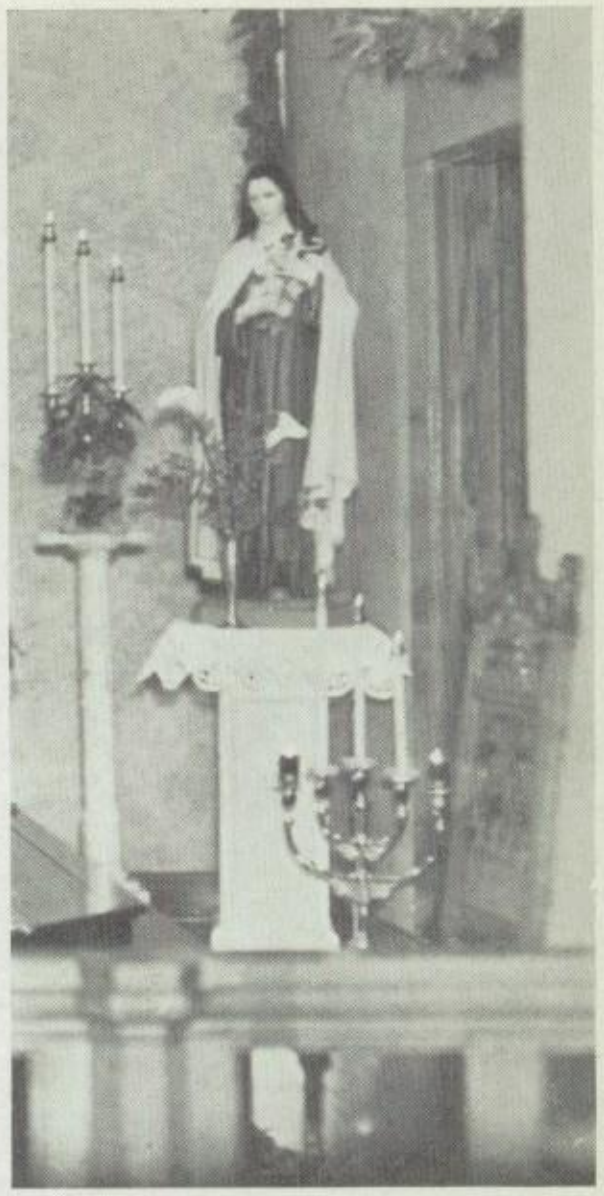
ELEANOR BINGEMER.

Convent Chapel on Christmas Eve

"AND all the angels stood round the throne, and they fell on their faces and worshipped God, saying: 'Amen! Blessing and glory and wisdom and thanksgiving and honour and power and might be to our God for ever and ever. Amen!' "

Convent Shrine of The Little Flower

"AND another angel came and stood before the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given to him much incense, that he should offer of the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar, which is before the throne of God."



If a bud of prayer
Might blossom there
By the shrine of the Little Flower;
A rose it would be Brought down to me
From my Guardian Angel's bower.
For he takes on high
Each prayer, each sigh,
As a rose, Therese, to thee;
And wings back again
To the realm of men
With a shower of rosebuds for me.

AUDREY VOGT

School Chapel

Where we "sing praises to Thee in the sight of the angels."

Voices of many angels round about the throne.

In Memoriam

PIUS XI

"He was a great lover of America, a great lover of his fellow men—and God rest his soul—he was a great lover of everything worth while in life."—Bishop Kearney.

"Angels and archangels, thrones and dominations, principalities and powers, ye hosts of heaven, Cherubim and Seraphim, bless ye the Lord for ever."

Glory in Angelic Light

O gather Angels, round the place
Where Pius rests from earth's dread strife
Come ye—with slow, deliberate pace
Lead him to Christ—Eternal Life!

Ah, here amid a world of woes
He toiled while nine angelic choirs
Made music of the wrath of foes,
Tranquilled and eased by prayerful lyres.

So bear him gently, angels, soft
Ah, Michael, guardian of grave trust
Come now to bear his soul aloft
To realms where rest the Saints, the just.

O Thrones, who sing incessant praise
Ye Thrones, who form bright heaven's court,
What union with God did ye raise
In this dear soul—this saintly fort!

Ye, Powers and Princes, oft did war
At his command demonic powers;
Come, joy that these no more may mar
The glory gained through guarded hours.

Dominations—powers supreme
Bid angel hosts bear him afar
Let glory of beatic dreams
Be his, soul-seared by War's grim scar!

Come, Virtues, softly raise him up
This Pope who saints did canonize;
May priests who raise the Sacred Cup
Therein his name soon crystallize!

Ah, Cherubim, with outstretched wing
What holy places dost thou keep
While radiant Seraphs gently sing
Pius, to Love's eternal sleep?

O, Choirs, thrice-tripled, bear him swift
Who, careworn, weary here hath trod
Martyr to Peace! Ah, choirs, to Jesu lift
Pius triumphant to the throne of God!

ANNE VIRGINIA MILLER, '39

"O GOD, the Lord of mercies, grant to the soul of Pius XI a place of refreshment, rest, and happiness, and the glory of Thy light . . . "

His Holiness Pope Pius XII

Most Reverend James E. Kearney, D. D.

Rome and Rochester

It brings Rome very close to Rochester to see our new Pope Pius XII pictured here with our own Bishop Kearney. It establishes a very personal link between us when we see the Bishop of Rome walking side by side with the Bishop of Rochester. Formerly, a Pope seemed far off, distant; one we revered and loved and honored, but still one remote. Now, when we hear Pope Pius XII over the radio we can feel the closeness of Rome and Rochester, each presided over by a Bishop whose lives have many similarities.

Our Holy Father is a Roman chosen for Rome; Bishop Kearney, a New Yorker, has come back to his native New York State as Bishop of our city. Pope Pius XII was a professor at Roman Seminary in his earlier years; Bishop Kearney taught at Cathedral College.

Both Bishops stand on common ground in questions of individual human freedom and abhorrence of race prejudice. Each has a whole-hearted interest in youth problems. When the new Pope visited America as Cardinal Pacelli in 1936, he led a busy life of contact with Americans. He made an airplane tour of the country, meeting more than a hundred of our American bishops. He was guest at Hyde Park on the day after President Roosevelt's re-election. He was the guest of the Catholic University of America and of Fordham and Notre Dame Universities. We, Rochesterians, know full well what a busy life our Bishop leads. How Nazareth should like to have had the privilege accorded to West Philadelphia Catholic High in 1936 where His Eminence Pope Pius XII was tendered a special program! "Rome comes to West Catholic,"—the caption in their 1937 "Gleam" tells how much it meant to them. But then, too, Rome and Rochester met,—Cardinal Pacelli now Bishop of Rome; Bishop Kearney then of Salt Lake, Utah, now of Rochester, New York.

It is fitting that in a book dedicated to the Angels of Peace he whose first wish as Pope was "Peace to all the world!" should be included. Peace has been a dominant note in his life. Upon leaving the United States, following his memorable visit in 1936, Pope Pius XII, then Cardinal Secretary of State, said, "I am leaving America with gratitude toward all with whom I have come in contact and with prayer that Almighty God may continue to bless this great nation, that its citizens may be happy and prosperous, and that the influence of the United States may always be exerted for the promotion of peace among peoples."

May the Angels of Peace bring strength and courage to this "pastor angelicus", Pius XII, the Bishop of Rome pictured here with the Most Reverend James E. Kearney, Bishop of Rochester.

"God appointed angels to their several posts" . . .

IN ADDITION to their regular course in Apologetics, the seniors have a weekly instruction hour with His Excellency, Most Reverend Thomas F. Hickey, D. D. Talks on the sacrifice of the Mass, the use of the missal, the Saints of God, and other points of Catholic doctrine have made the class better prepared to go forth into an inquiring world where all sorts of questions will meet them. In these trying times when many "isms" surround us, it is comforting to think on these Thursdays at ten when we learned of faith, hope, and charity by precept and practice. The reverential prayer has made us know the reality of the definition of grammar school days,—the "lifting up of our minds and hearts to God."

"A guardian angel o'er his life presiding" . . .

ALL junior, sophomore, and freshmen classes have Father Daniel O'Rourke for religious instruction on Wednesdays. These lectures supplement the courses in Christian Moral, Prayer and the Sacraments, and Faith and the Sources of Faith which form the regular daily period in Religion. However, Father O'Rourke is more than a teacher; or should we say he is the devoted, interested teacher? Always is he our helper in various projects for curricular or extra-curricular happenings at Nazareth. In joy, in sorrow, in success, in failure we can always be sure that our religious instructor will divide our trouble and double our pleasure.

What beautiful sapphire eyes!
Best of all — what a pal!

"Behold I will send my angel, who shall go before thee, and keep thee in thy journey, and bring thee into the place that I have prepared."

THE Angel, Helen Bauman, goes before Nazareth's nine hundred and shows the way to Marjory Keenan, their representative.

THE Grammar Department at Nazareth is limited in numbers now, due to the growing registration in the high school courses. Besides their home room teachers, the pupils of the lower school have Religion from Father O'Rourke, vocal music from Sister Rose Teresa, oral expression from Gertrude Ermantinger Taylert, health from Marion Baptiste Benson. Opportunity for instrumental music appreciation is offered in the Junior Orchestra Club.

Gay-Hearted

GRAMMAR GRADES

THE PREFECTS of home room groups in the preparatory school are chosen for poise, personality, and leadership. There is freedom under guidance for these leaders to represent the individual and group needs of their various classes to the respective teachers and the administration. The initiative and responsibility shown by these 1939 Prefects prove that they will meet well larger problems in school life as they prepare for participating in social situations in democratic society.

"In sight of Thy angels I will sing to Thee, my God."

"O Lord, permit us here to raise our voice;
And waft before Thy throne our feeble praise,
And thank Thee for those angels whom Thy choice
Hath lent our weakness to direct its ways"

Nazareth's tiniest angel, Sheila O'Grady, lights the candles of Truth (Studies) and Wisdom (Sodality) for Dorothy Meyer and Audrey De Smith from Nazareth's nine hundred.

Concerning Studies

Of course there are classes in science, art, music, history, modern and ancient languages, home economics, commercial subjects, mathematics, and health; but one remembers best the hours when routine gave way to activities, exhibits, or even social gatherings. We have pictured Nazareth this year not so much in actual study as in these other aspects of our school days which we all hold dear, and which brought a development of body, mind, and soul pleasing to the angels.

Religion IV

Seniors study Apologetics

Marion Callan prepares to equip herself: "Be ready always to satisfy everyone that asketh you a reason of that hope which is in you." (I Pet. 3,15)

Frances Treppiedi studies to be able to answer wisely the modern objections against the Immortality of the Soul. Eileen O'Brien gathers the testimony of Church History: The doctrine of Christ renewed the face of the earth. Arlene Barnard, looking upon a picture of Pius XII, ponders the moral miracle of Papal succession in the Catholic Church which is the Body of Christ, the realization of the Kingdom of Christ on earth, the continuation of His work among men.

"The Church militant is the kingdom of struggle and trial, the wages (of faith and grace) being conditioned on unremitting service. When the Church militant merges into the Church triumphant, faith becomes vision, struggle ends in victory, labor ceases in contemplation and hope passes into the joy of possession."

The Juniors Study Ethics

Ruth Rauber, Florence Filippone, Margaret Kellett, Jean Meisenzahl, Mary Santillo, and Janet Predmore study duties as members of the family, the State, and the Church. Janet weighs what she has read; Margaret and Mary seek knowledge on the right of private property, and one's duties concerning material goods. Ruth, Florence, and Jean are interested in the "isms"—Communism, Socialism, Capitalism.

Sophomores Practice Religion

PRAYER and the Sacraments are the subject matter of second year Religion. Here Dorothy, Mary Edna, Patricia and Betty pray before the shrine of Mary on the Feast of the Archangel Gabriel, putting their study into practice.

Below: Rita Hill, Jean Englert, Marjorie Hofmann, and Eunice Vay examine the evidences of good works and good intentions which form a part of their course in Religion I.

"Every man shall receive his own reward according to his own labor."

THE freshmen have learned that Christianity is a Religion of action. Good intention, however, must accompany the act to reap reward: "Whether you eat or drink, or whatsoever else you do, do all to the glory of God."

Nazareth Academy Orchestra

KENNETH WAIDE ..... Conductor of Orchestra

SISTER ROSE TERESA ..... Faculty Adviser

THE ultimate touch to most of the Assembly Programs during the year is given by the Senior Orchestra, numbering forty-five students. At the annual music festival in May, especially, do we hear the orchestra, speaking through its conductor, a rich and varied program of interpretative worth. The two hour practice period every Tuesday brings reward in reading accurately at the proper "tempo"; perfect unity, and the appreciation that the orchestral musician alone can give the great masterpieces in their tonal splendor. At this year's concert the following numbers were delightfully received:

Victory Overture ..... O. Taylor
Choral Rejoice, O My Soul ..... R. Schumann
Choral In Apollo's Temple ..... C. W. von Gluck
Waltzes from The Student Prince ..... S. Romberg
Gloriana Overture ..... A. Weidt
Air de Ballet ..... C. W. von Gluck

Dramusical

EVERY year, in early autumn, the Perosian Choir presents a dramusical. The class of 1939 chose "In Mozart's Time" —a story of Madame de la Tour, and her daughter Louise, a student of musical composition under the famous Mozart.

Ladies of the Court: Virginia Akey, June Fetzner, Eleanor Norman, Joan Torpey, Nancy Dineen, June Dispenza, Bernice Norman, Rosemary Hayes, Patricia Green, Catherine Sullivan, Sally Brasser, Jane Hetzler.

Maids in Waiting: Mary Savarino, Frances Briggs, Doris Hemmer, Marie Leinberger, Mildred Horn, Rita Gefell, Eileen Hanley, Allena Lippa, Ingeborg Rochtaschel.

Before the Curtain: Lucille Schiavo, Eileen Tiernan, Suzanne De Prez, June Dispenza, Doris Hemmer, Frances Briggs, Anne Miller.

Last minute fixings are most important, aren't they, Anne?

Lucille admires Eileen's costume; June gives a last word to Suzanne.

Ladies of the Court: Jeanne Collins, Margaret Christman, Anne Miller, Agnes Hanley, Arline Gysel, Mary O'Neill, Margaret O'Reilly, Sally Messner.

PERHAPS, after all, the ladies are wondering if Louise has musical talent and will she win the Master's prize. Do they suspect that Camille is the author of the musical compositions entered by Louise?

AMERICAN BEAUTY

Presented by Senior Dramatic Class

A PLAY and a style show all in one with clever roles played by Barbara Kelley, Kay Statt, Helen Donovan, Joanne Vogt, Jeanne Schnurr, Mary Rigney, Eileen O'Brien, Marion Fischer, Katherine Mayer, and Geraldine Iuppa. We remember especially the attractive stage setting and the excellent picture of school life given by this able cast.

THE second play was centered about a sad, but artistic theme wherein mother love played a dominant part. This time the players were Margaret Dunlay, Mary Alice Manning, Margaret Volpe, and Mary Louis.

Christmas Memories

GREETINGS from the senior class president, Yuletide echoes from the orchestra, the Perosian Choir in harmonious angel song, choric speech, and dramatic episodes, — all make the Christmas season at school a memorable one. At top left Virginia Akey is shown as the Angel Gabriel, and Marie Leinberger as the Blessed Virgin. Below is Betty Sansom as Shemeul, and to right Teresa Leene as the wealthy traveler.

Above: SCENE 1—Outside the Inn—E. Cornelia, G. Zablosky, V. Krieg, M. Stephens, M. Weisenborn

"Lady Bug! Lady Bug!"

Above: Julia (Cleta Quigley) arrives almost too late for the take-off. Toni (Ruth Ann Dakin) gets a scoop for the Cleveland Ledger.

Center: Mamie (Eileen Hanley) tells Mrs. Maxwell (Virginia Akey) that she has come to serve notice.

Jessie (Margaret Dunlay) calls the "Ladybug" in a dark moment.

Above: A new high for the endurance record for women. Victory for Julia (Cleta) and Hazel (Marion).

Center: Phyllis (Dolores Grosser) and Althea (Joan Torpey) plot to force down the "Ladybug."

Barbara (Barbara Kelley) relates her frightful dream of the crack-up. Mrs. Maxwell, Hazel, and Clara are amused at the extravagant details.

Left: Jeanne Schnurr (Business Manager) points to Angeline Girardi's poster while Mary, Anne, Evelyn, and Jeanne Collins appraise it.

SINCE its organization in 1934 this club has done more than its share toward furthering student interest in science. Exhibits, scrap books, posters, and tours to Rochester Scientific establishments put theory into practice. May your successors do as well, girls.

To develop poise and ability in speech is the aim of the COEC Club. Each Friday routine gives place to a happy club hour wherein one learns current affairs, parliamentary law, and how to be the perfect social secretary. This picture shows preparation for a unit in the study of modern literature.

President—JEAN HUGHES
Vice-President—PATRICIA GOODWIN
Secretary—MARGARET O'BRIEN

A SCIENCE FAIR, well planned and attractively arranged, was the new venture of the senior science club this year. This plus the annual picnic and the frequent tours to scientific centers fulfilled the expectations of the members to the 'nth degree. We learned film making at Kodak; ice cream making at Bartholomay's; and scientific nature secrets at the picnic.

Le Cercle Français

President—Doris Hemmer
Vice-President—Joan Case
Secretary—Marion Fischer
Treasurer—Margaret Kellett

A bit of "Gay Paris" comes to Nazareth when the French Club meets. Whether it be monologues, dialogues, playlets, skits, or preparation for the annual play, one always has the happy spirit of France in these meetings. This year the seniors chose "De l'Audace Jeune Homme" and "La Clef" for their evening performance.

Thucydians

President—Marie Stevens
Vice-President—Peggy Flaherty
Secretary—Sheila O'Brien
Treasurer—Mary A. Oakes

The students of ancient, medieval and modern history form the Thucydian Club. Lectures on the German opera by music majors from Nazareth College, an illustrated lecture by Father Duffy on his trip around the world, a social hour at Christmastide with party, games, and prizes, talks on noted Frenchmen who have visited our United States have all helped to make the club acquainted with some of the larger aspects of history.

Perosian Choir Club

President—June Dispenza
Vice-President—Mary O'Neill
Secretary—Agnes Hanley
Treasurer—Angeline Girardi

The dramusical, "In Mozart's Time," the angelic chorus in the Christmas play, the midnight Mass at Veterans' Hospital in Batavia, the old English Easter hymn sung over the radio on Low Sunday, the "Ave Maria" at the May concert in new blue and gold cap and gown,—all these made a red letter year of 1939 for the Perosians. The officers here seem to be planning more adventures on the high C for Mondays at eighth period.

Bellarmine Club

President—KATHLEEN O'BRIEN
Vice-President—RUTH LUCAS
Secretary—MARGARET VOLPE
Treasurer—EVELYN HOGAN
Advisory—MARY KUNZ, KAY STATT

THE parade of history is continually marching forward for the members of this organization. The constitution best states its purpose . . . "to create . . . a more active interest in current events . . . to understand more fully the principles of American government . . . to prepare for a more worthy, loyal service, citizens of the United States." The major achievement of the club was a symposium on "Catholicism and its Relations to Other Modern 'Isms'."

Orchestra Club

President—MARGARET SNIDER
Vice-President—ELIZABETH RIGNEY
Treasurer—VERONICA DILK
Librarian—MARCELLA CAUFIELD

ENTHUSIASM for the orchestra is not limited to the privileged group of forty-five who compose this club. At various school functions excellent programs are given. There are two annual concerts,—for the feast of Saint Cecelia and for annual National Music Week.

Mantuan Club

President—AUDREY VOGT
Vice-President—MILDRED HORN
Secretary—SALLY MESSNER
Treasurer—EDNA HERZOG

THE Mantuan Circle is one of the oldest school organizations. Inspired by the Literary Circles of the Empire, the club took its name from Virgil's home. Lectures on Virgil and the other poets of his age, combined with the study of the background of this period, help to promote culture by creating and stimulating an interest in our Roman heritage. Tableaus of Roman scenes, Roman historical events, and even a real Roman banquet have been major activities of recent years.

Der Deutsche Verein

President—MILDRED HORN
Vice-President—AGNES HANLEY
Treasurer—MARY MCAVOY
Secretary—INGEBORG ROCKTASCHEL

"D" stands for diversity—the keynote of German Club activities. Organized in 1935, the club has done much to further interest and appreciation of the German language and customs. The German version of the "Pied Piper of Hamlin" was the production for this year.

Badminton Club

President—MARJORIE LYNCH
Vice-President—SYLVIA NOLL
Secretary—EILEEN NEARY
Treasurer—ARLINE GYSEL

THE senior Commercial group are responsible for this new successful venture at Nazareth. The girls have planned no outside contests as yet, but the "birdie" flies regularly through the gym during the after-school hours. We are counting, however, on hearing more of this club in the recreational hours of Miss Commercial when she goes into her business career.

Tennis Club

President—MARGARET FRAWLEY
Vice-President—JOAN WEISMILLER
Secretary—MARGARET O'BRIEN
Treasurer—MARCELLA CAUFIELD

YOU never heard of it? Well, it is extra-curricular; but it makes for school spirit since it brings the students from varied places together on Saturdays, holidays, and in vacation. The scores are in angelic keeping; there are plans for weekly meets this summer.

Lanthorn Honors Aim of Staff

THE 1939 "Lanthorn" Staff hope to equal the success of former years by reaching again the goal of All-Catholic in the Catholic School Press Association rating; and first place in Columbia Scholastic Press as was done last year. The publication must make 900 points to win these awards. Judges in the Catholic Press Association rate on the following basis: diffusion of Catholic thought and promotion of Catholic activity; enterprise and service to the school and its community; news and feature coverage, editorial content; physical appearance, design and layout, typography; uniformity, consistency, accuracy, and art. Columbia critique compares each book with the others in its own particular class and rates according to relative standing with other entries. Columbia award for first place is a gold plaque transfixed by a blue ribbon; the Catholic School Press certificate of honor is shown on the opposite page. The Editor, appointed for scholarship honors in February, found her work well planned by the volunteer staff which had worked daily since October first.

No Place to Go

Remember the morn so cold, so crisp, so promising for fun after school. Remember the skis, the skates, the Smiths' toboggan in readiness for the afternoon sport. Remember the trick Old Sol played at noon, so that after school we were "all dressed up" but had only one corner of snow in the quadrangle?

But anyhow we had our picture of "what might have been" and snow aplenty came in March.

To Horse and Away

Raphael, angel of journeying, guides many a Nazareth maid after school hours when she rides her way to health and happiness. It may be at Park View; it may be Pine Tree; this time it was at Heberle's. Too sunny for a good picture, perhaps; but not too sunny for an hour of outdoor freedom.

IN JUNE, 1933, Margaret Larkin was chosen Sodality Prefect at Nazareth. Sodality records show that 1933—1934 was a year of intense Catholic Action under Margaret's leadership. Since then Margaret has been Prefect of her Parish Sodality, Immaculate Conception, and for 1938—1939 has been Prefect for Sodality Union. Nazareth sodalists congratulate her through the "Lanthorn" for her outstanding accomplishments in Rochester Parish Sodality work. This year during National Catholic Vocation Week Margaret Larkin spoke at General Assembly on "The Personality of the Private Secretary."

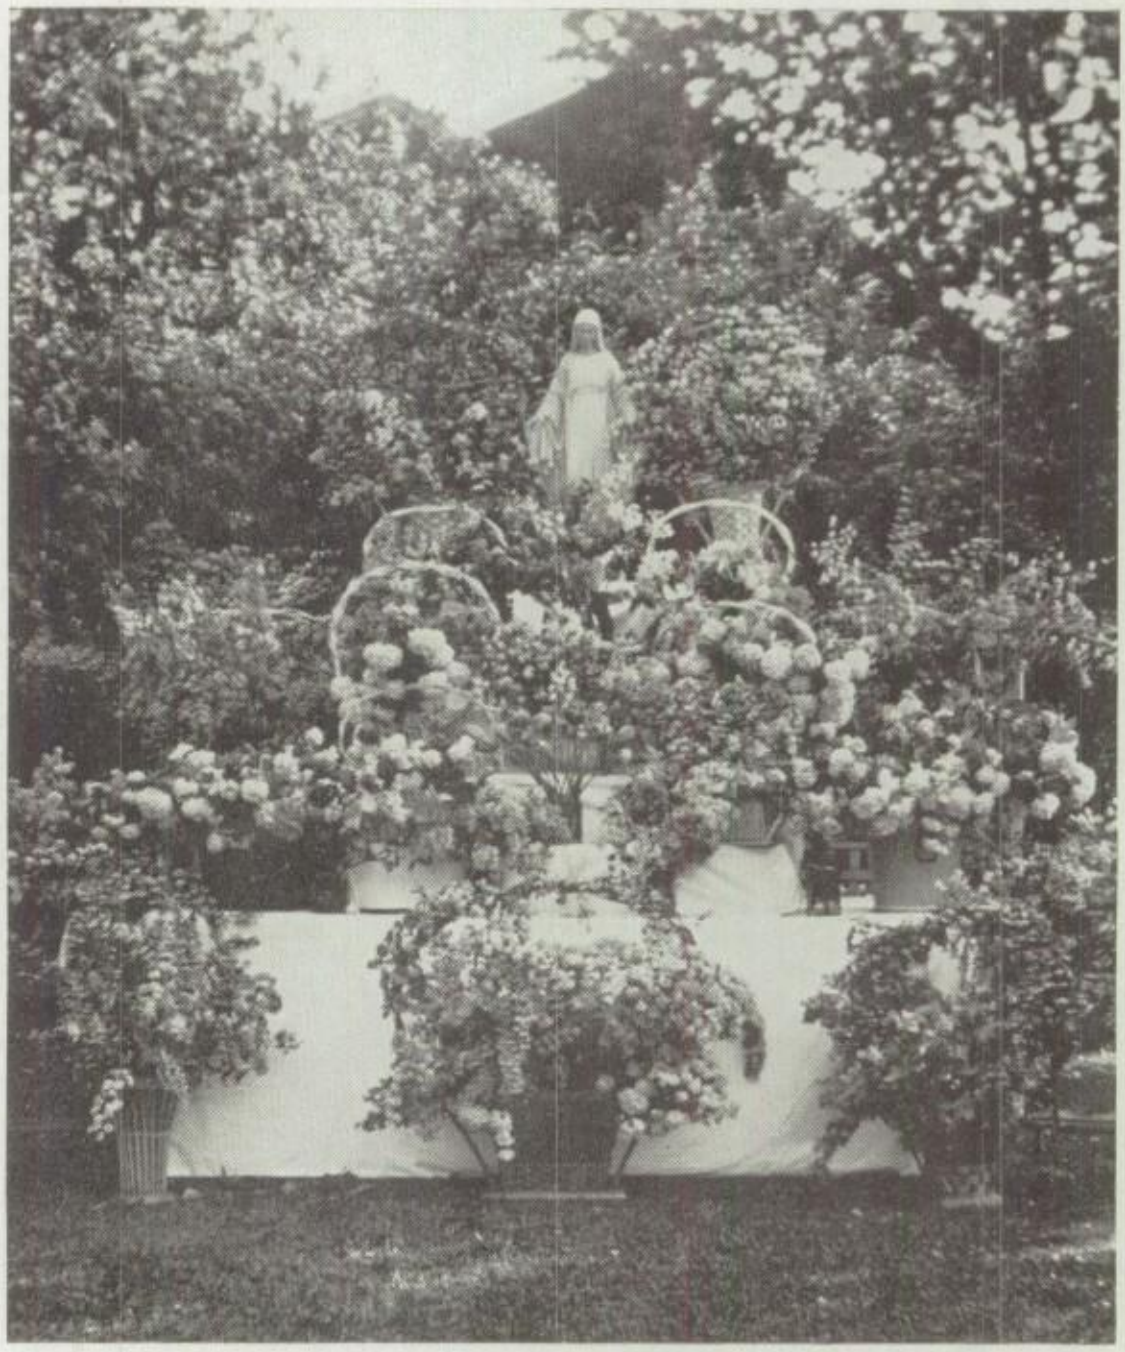
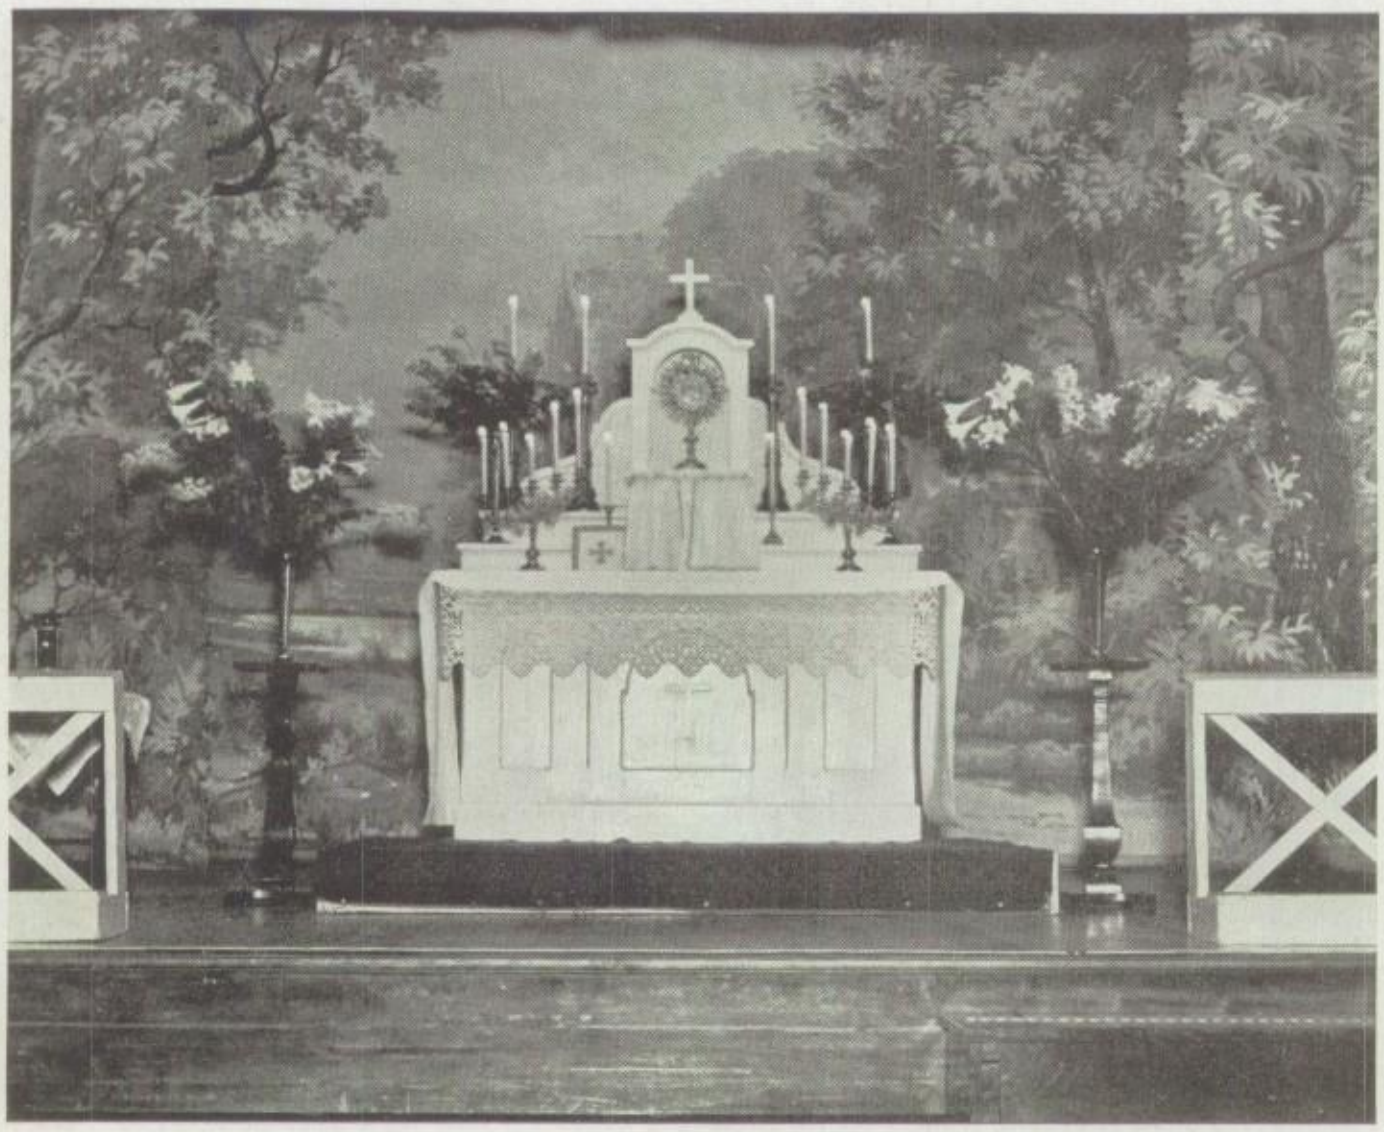
Sodality Spiritual Activities

"And I heard the voice of many Angels, saying: The Lamb that was slain is worthy to receive power, and divinity, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and benediction."

To the "Mother of the Lamb" on each fourth Sunday of May all loyal sodalists pay honor in a spiritual celebration conducted before shrines built by each class for Mary Mother, Queen of the Sodality, Queen of Nazareth.



Temporary Altar for all School Services



"Receive, O Lord, the gifts which we bring Thee in honour of Thy holy Angels; and grant in Thy mercy, that by their unceasing watchfulness, we may be delivered from present dangers and may attain unto everlasting life."

We cherish—
more than thirty First Fridays
our four annual retreats,
feast day Masses,
Sodality meetings,
our auditorium chapel.

In Charge of God's Angels

NUMEROUS angels sing hymns of praise, round about St. Joseph's shrine each day of the school term; but especially is this so on the feast of the patronage when the Sodality of Mary pays tribute to the dear Saint who is the model, the guide, the inspiration of our teachers. There are always special honors for St. Joseph on his feast.

THE angels of the Lord know how far too short eternity will prove, to exhaust the hymns that enumerate the wonders of God's saints. Nazareth joins the angelic choirs in honoring St. Joseph.

We remember—
the morning Mass,
the beautiful hymns,
the sermon and the Benediction in the auditorium,
the joy of a perfect day.

MANNEQUINS . . . MODELS . . .

Sodality Fall Fashion Revue

Youth personified: A stunning but simple party dress of turquoise slipper satin was worn by Miss Agnes Moynihan Full skirt, high waistline and angel-wing sleeves predominated.

Sophisticated charm: A full pleated skirt and belt of gold trim with matching bracelet were the attractive features of Miss Rosalie Canepa's gown.

Feminine loveliness was modeled by Miss Helen Donovan wearing apple green transparent velvet with a bolero-lapin evening wrap and carrying angora evening mittens.

MAKE-UP . . . MANNERS

A parade of debonair youthfulness passed in revue at the annual fashion show sponsored by Mrs. Effie Harder Hunt of McCurdy and Company.

Velvet elegance was expressed by Miss Mary Ritz modeling this stunning evening gown of black transparent velvet, featuring brilliant clips and bracelet to match.

Prelude to poise is the lovely gown, worn by Miss Dorothy Maurer. All ready for a gala occasion is she in this delightful gown — yards and yards of pink silk net over pink taffeta with a brief bunny jacket.

EVENING GLORY

Youth at Yuletide

DEEPENING shadows, glittering snow . . . silvery trees, soft golden light . . . scintillating rhythms, lilting strains of the waltz . . . shimmering gowns, tinkling laughter . . . the smiling benediction of Mary, Queen of the Ball—this was the atmosphere of Nazareth's annual Christmas dance sponsored by the Sodality. Mary Inez Ryan in all her "evening glory" greets us. Below is a group seen chatting gaily during the intermission —Mary McAvoy with Joseph Maid; June Smith and Carl Boesel; Gloria Anderson and Richard Albright; Anne Miller with Bob McManus; Arline Fredette and Jack Griffin; Ruth Kuchman and Johnny Hausenauer.

Youth at Yuletide

ONCE before, Nazareth had thrilled to the loveliness of Dorothy Welch as she "tripped the light fantastic" in our annual fashion show. Here again in "debutante conquest" we see her.

Below we have an inter-class chat when Senior Peggy O'Brien with June Clark, junior, and Marilyn Moore, Lu Gabel, and Kay Dowling, sophs, discusses the "who," "when," "where," "what," and "why" of the dance. One wonders how they managed these moments away from the tall, gallant escorts.

Heart of Christmas

Right:

GLAD are the Christmas angels for generous help in bringing "peace" to men. This year Nazareth sodalists had a varied program to offer. To the right, we see dresses made by the sodalists for friends in the South. Today some little negro girls have these calico prints; but at Christmas Baby Helen Torpey wanted the one made by big sister Joan; while Eleanor Fazio admired sister Carol as a stylist. Nancy decides for her black uniform; Helen Hofmayr thinks buttons and buckles just the thing. Centered is the booth of merchandise in the play given by Juniors. Last is a "sitting out scene" from the Christmas dance.

Opposite:

FOUR freshmen prepare an altar cloth for a Rochesterian, Sister Jane, missionary at Edinboro, Pennsylvania. Next are Lucille, Mary, Rosalie, Virginia and some hidden seniors, studying the use of Talon Fasteners for dresses. Mary Jane McBride in shepherd costume shows us how to watch the star. The Junior Sodalists gave this memorable pageant. In the center are Jane Erdle, Betty Ward and Marjorie Naylor, having one long last look at the vestments made by the Eucharistic Unit to send also to Sister Jane.

FINALLY we see the Perosian Choir in practice for the Midnight Mass at Veteran's Hospital in Batavia. Twice thirty-five miles on Christmas Eve and early Christmas morn rode these sodalists to sing Gregorian for the soldiers at the hospital. Fun and frolic, gaiety and giving, service and sacrifice,—these spell Christmas Sodality spirit at Nazareth. There echoes too, the angels' song of long ago—"Glory to God in the highest; peace to men of goodwill."

The Queen's Herald Distributors

THE Sodality News Paper reaches all sodalists through a group of earnest distributors who are responsible for subscriptions in the home rooms. Senior carriers are Virginia Akey, Betty Kelliher, Marie Kalmbacker, Marjorie Slowe, Arline Fallon and Marie Leinberger.

"Queen's Herald"

"A mighty oak from a tiny acorn grew." A successful sodality paper from a wise thought is growing.

NOVEMBER, 1934, marked the initial copy of "The Queen's Herald." Under the editing of Margaret Habalou the newssheet took form. Mimeographed on legal-sized paper, it was graduated to colored mimeographed sheets of regular size in the following year. October, 1936 saw the "Herald" strengthening. Printed copies! Circulation increased. Today there is a distribution of approximately nine hundred copies.

The underlying motive for "The Queen's Herald" was to publicize sodality work. Until today it strives to keep its finger on the pulse of the sodality—its primary motive still playing in view.

Advertising pays. Does "The Queen's Herald" broadcast? For five years articles on Catholic action, true Catholic spirit, and "think-straight—speak straight—act straight principles" have vibrated over a network of printed lines—lines highly electrified with Sodality Spirit from the beginning.

"Come my lips and wide proclaim the Blessed Virgin's spotless fame!" is an appropriate maxim for the forerunner of Mary—"The Queen's Herald."

Helen Bauman, Mildred, and Elizabeth, reporters, look over copy for the final issue.

Typists,—Margaret, Jennie and Joan make copy; Helen Flugel studies heads and leads in preparation.

Conversation with an Angel

It is a benign angel that presides over the business relations of Rochester merchants and business offices in general. To him goes a special vote of thanks from the Class of 1939 for his inspirational guidance which brought a sufficient budget to make the twenty-seventh volume of "The Lanthorn" a success. Here are some things he told regarding our advertisers:

"There are no friends like the old friends." Some of the 1939 patrons have helped Nazareth for twenty-four consecutive years. Turn to pages 117, 120, 135, 141. (Catholic Courier, Ryan and McIntee, Sam Gottry Carting, George C. Schaefer, Jeweler, Trant's Book Store.)

"Speaking of friends reminds one of beauty because a true friendship is beautiful. Speaking of beauty reminds one of this engraving. Where—oh, where is such work done? See page 113 (Culver Herald.)"

"If, now, your wish is to make faith the corner stone of your educational life and to develop to the utmost creative abilities and truly liberal tastes, then make your decision by page 115 (Nazareth College.)"

"Knowing where to tap is almost as important as knowing where to look."

KNOWING WHERE TO TAP

Recently, in the plant of a Rochester manufacturer, an intricate machine broke down in the middle of rush production of a big order.

Local mechanics could not find the trouble. A hurry call was dispatched to New York for an expert.

The expert came, looked the machine over, and said, "Let me have a hammer, please." He poked the hammer carefully past a maze of gears, and tapped gently, three times. Withdrawing the hammer, he said, "Try it."

It worked. The machine began to run. The expert returned to New York and submitted a bill for $603.

The manufacturer was furious. "It's highway robbery," he cried, and demanded an itemized account.

Here is what the expert submitted:

To tapping three times with a hammer at $1 per tap.....	$ 3
To knowing where to tap.....	$600

"Perhaps experts don't always get $600 for knowing where to tap; but readers always get a pleasant surprise for knowing where to look. See page 118 (R. B. I.)"

"Many dear friends of angelic hosts appeared in the most popular book of poetry used by Nazareth students this year. See page 137 (Mint by Night.)"

A brief interval passed during which the angel did not speak. The thought came that this interview was over. But finally he spoke again, " '5, 6, 7' are magic numbers when one says 'Stone' before them. Try it or turn to page 144 (Art Print Shop.)"

"Do you know that the angel pictures on pages 4 and 5 are Beuronese prints available at Liturgical Press, Collegeville, Minnesota?"

"Do you know where one may find many Nazareth girls daily between three-thirty and four?" See page 114 (Century Sweet Shop.)

Finally, he showed me innumerable pictures all bearing the stamp of time, patience, forethought. The secret is told on page 117 (Furlong.)

Now he is gone. It was a conversation monologue; one does not speak when an angel whispers; one ponders and renders thanks while the winged messenger speeds heavenward.

There's a difference in jobs. Minor job-holders get paid for what they DO. Holders of big jobs get paid for what they KNOW.

Your high school training has given you a solid foundation upon which to build a store of specialized knowledge that will enable you to hold a BIG job—to "know where to tap."

RBI has been training men and women for big jobs for 75 years. RBI graduates are holding big jobs all over the country Today. They will fill the big jobs of Tomorrow. Do YOU want one?
